

School Savings Show a Decrease, Fire Drills Held

Superintendent Van Ingen submitted his monthly report to the Board of Education Friday evening, stating that the school savings of the pupils were approximately 75 per cent of last year for the month of October. He also called attention to the successful fire drills that had been held at the schools.

The Kingston Symphony Society asked for the use of the high school auditorium on the evenings of January 23 and March 27, and stated that it was also planned to hold rehearsals in the afternoon of those days in the auditorium. The request for the use of the auditorium was granted in the usual terms of the board.

The Junior Class was granted permission to use the gymnasium for the annual dance on the evening of December 23.

The finance committee reported the monthly salary list as totaling $24,557.44, and warrants were ordered drawn to meet it.

Two bids to supply magazines for the schools were received: one from Anna S. Newkirk for $100.50, and the other from Viola Atwater for $100. The contract was awarded to the low bidder.

The contract for taking care of the school pianos was again awarded to Frederick C. Winters for $65.

President Boers said he had been by the public press where the teachers and employees of the board had contributed a large sum to the volunteer relief committee for its work. He said the contribution had been made freely and without solicitation on the part of the board, and that he believed the teachers and other employees should be commended for their action. Trustee Byrne offered a resolution commending the teachers and employees which was unanimously adopted.

Bills and claims were read and audited and the board adjourned to meet again on Friday evening, December 16.

Superintendent Van Ingen's report to the board follows:

To the Board of Education:

During the month I am privileged all the schools and I am impressed with the consistent, earnest efforts being put forth in the several grades and departments.

All the schools are meeting the legal requirements for fire drills. Recently a fire drill was given in each building under the inspection of the city fire department with Chief Murphy present. The chief's report on the time required for clearing the several buildings is worthy of note:

School No. 1—94 pupils, 46 seconds.

School No. 2—227 pupils, 56 seconds.

School No. 3—216 pupils, 1 minute, 7 seconds.

School No. 4—415 pupils, 1 minute, 29 seconds.

School No. 5—520 pupils, 43½ seconds.

School No. 6—545 pupils, 1 minute, 26 seconds.

School No. 7—487 pupils, 1 minute, 59 seconds.

School No. 8—448 pupils, 1 minute, 25 seconds.

High School—1,700 pupils, 2 minutes, 15 seconds.

All the fire drills are carefully planned and skillfully executed without confusion or hesitancy.

It may be of interest to know that the "school savings" is maintaining a splendid level but less than last year. The following shows the savings for the month of October, 1931, as compared with the corresponding month for 1932:

	1931	1932
Week 1	$1,788.59	$1,517.28
Week 2	1,498.18	1,077.73
Week 3	1,652.84	1,191.25
Week 4	1,411.94	998.26
Total	$6,241.55	$4,684.52

This shows the deposits for October, 1932, approximately 75 per cent of 1931. The number of "withdrawals" for October is practically the same for the two years.

Following the meeting of the Home Teachers' Association, every member of the faculty was requested to fill a questionnaire in reference to the value of the two days' meetings.

Practically every teacher was enthusiastic in asserting that the meetings were worthwhile and were profitable to a high degree. The following are typical opinions expressed by the principals and teachers:

"Most interesting and profitable meeting ever attended."

"Very helpful and inspiring meeting."

"Professional pride quickened and increased."

"Very much worthwhile."

"Great uplift from meeting with teachers in similar work."

Respectfully submitted,

R. C. VAN INGEN,

Superintendent of Schools,

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 18, 1932.

Saturday Society Review

Members of the Community Concert Association who heard Jacques Fray and Mario Braggiotti give a recital for two pianos last Monday evening were highly pleased.

The program opened with Wilhelm Friedmann Bach's dignified Prelude from the Organ Concerto in D Minor. Following this the artists gave a pleasant interpretation of Franz Liszt's familiar Liebestraum. Probably the most colorful number of the evening was the Coronation Scene from Boris Godunoff by Monmouthsky with its crescendo of Kremlin bells mingled with voices of the crowd following the coronation of Tsar Boris. Many present recognized this as the outstanding number sung by the Mendelssohn Club last spring.

Excerpts from Rachmaninoff's Second Concerto, Opus 18, admirably lent itself to the two piano arrangement. The delicate lyric quality of the sensitive Debussy was exquisitely interpreted in Clara de Lume and Potes. The Fire Dance from the opera Love, the Wizard, by Manuel de Falla recalled the captivating La Argentina who created the "Ritual Fire Dance" and who has interpreted it all over the world.

Dolero by Maurice Ravel proved a great favorite with its beat of Moorish drums and frenzied climax.

The last number, variations of Yankee Doodle, an arrangement by Mario Braggiotti, showed the pianists in their element. The audience had followed the program with warm appreciation and probably due to the close proximity of the pianos and artists to their listeners, the strains of the American song, Yankee Doodle, created an unusual spirit of camaraderie. Following a brief exposition of the familiar theme it was varied according to the style of Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, Debussy, the modern George Gershwin and Richard Strauss to the real delight of the audience.

Miss Elise Hasbrouck entertained a large number of friends interested in the Community Concert Association at her home last Monday evening following the concert. Messrs. Fray and Braggiotti, the visiting artists, were present and further entertained the guests with their fascinating playing. A delightful buffet supper was served.

Mrs. George Hutton is giving a dinner party at her home on West Chestnut street this evening.

Mrs. Laurie Ellberg, formerly Miss Edna Hall of Kingston, now of Ft. Monmouth, Virginia, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hall. Her husband, Lieutenant Ellberg, who is in Kitching, North Carolina, serving as guide for the official party in unveiling the monument dedicated to the Wright brothers, will join her here next Wednesday. They plan to attend the Army-Notre Dame game in New York city next Saturday.

Plans are being perfected for the tea dance to be given by the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Thanksgiving afternoon at the nurses' home. Paul Zucca's orchestra will furnish the music.

This affair coming as it does on the holiday promises to be an enjoyable and festive one. The general public is cordially invited to attend. Proceeds of the dance will be used for work of the Auxiliary.

Miss Ella Freer and Mrs. Jacob H. Tremper, Jr., motored to New York city yesterday.

Mrs. John G. Myers Hixon entertained at a beautiful luncheon bridge at Mrs. Phillips' tea room in Saugerties on Wednesday.

The second of a series of benefit card parties for the Woman's Exchange was held at the home of Mrs. David Terry last Tuesday afternoon. These card parties have proved to be so popular that others are planned to be given after the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gales Holcombe and Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Archer attended the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden in New York city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton will entertain at a large dinner party at their home next Wednesday evening preceding the assembly dance.

A concert will be given at Saugerties Farm, the home of Mrs. James D. Winston, tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock for the benefit of the Saugerties Clothing Bureau.

Mrs. Clara Chichester, pianist, and Miss Marie Hanley, pianist, both of Woodstock, are giving their fine talents for this event as is also Miss Kuni Gunda, soprano. Madame Kuni Gunda is a singer of international note and reputation; she was educated in Munich, Germany, and has sung in the German Opera Company of Chicago.

Those not having purchased tickets may obtain admission at the Winston home. Following the program tea will be served.

Mrs. M. V. S. Owens and Miss Ellen Van Slyke will sail on November 24 for Spain where they expect to spend the winter. Miss Van Slyke has just returned from Wellesley Hills, Mass., where she visited her niece, Mrs. Stuart Huchins.

Following a luncheon given by Mrs. George L. Sutton of Poughkeepsie at Beekman Arms, Rhinebeck, Friday noon, a group of Poughkeepsie women interested in the study of early American Architecture, visited several of the Colonial buildings in Kingston including the Van Kaaren Homestead at 84 St. James street. Here Mrs. Henry T. Terpening, a descendant of the original owner, entertained at tea.

The guests included, Mrs. Alexander Haver, Mrs. George W. Krieger, Jr., Mrs. Robert L. Knox, Mrs. J. Rodney Foster, Mrs. Robert R. Becker, Mrs. George L. Sutton and Mrs. Leon L. Jamieson.

Repealers Lose To Kingston Five In Opener, 36-28

Jimmy Morgan's Repealers opened their basketball season at White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue, Friday night by losing to the Kingston Five, 36-28. The victors asserted their superiority in the second quarter and never relinquished their edge to the Repealers.

Chief scorer for the Morgans was "Chicken" Smith who gleamed 12 points, most of which came in the opening quarter. Jimmy Merritt was next with seven. For the Kingston Five Herbie Van Dusen was out in front with 12 markers, followed by Joe Blum with 10 to his credit.

Tonight the Repealers will go to Rosendale for a game with the freemen's team of that village. The Kingston Five will go to Albany Sunday night for an engagement with the Y. M. H. A. quintet of that city.

Penn's Plunger

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

It seems cruel to recall it, but the bright, optimistic after-dinner talk of the Harvard football staff in October seems to have given way to deep November gloom. Crimson hopes that started out so well were buried by that startling Army charge on Soldiers' Field.

Has the "house system" softened Harvard's resistance? Is this audacious and devastating depression in Crimson fortunes to be capped by the climax of another Yale holiday at New Haven?

Certainly the Elks, themselves so hopelessly in the ruck through the first half of the season, need not concede anything to the Johnnies, now. Albie Booth no longer is around to kick a close game out of the fire for Yale nor is Barry Wood's passing skill any longer a menace to the Blue. After consulting each other, these old rivals can fall to with a single purpose.

Army Blasted 'Em
Princeton's fire-eating 1925 football eleven, featuring Jake Slagle, bewildering passes and a hard-charging line, buried Harvard and Yale in successive games by scores of 26 to 0 and 25 to 12, respectively.

These twin routs have been outdone by Major Ralph Sasse's 1932 Army team, which rolled up 66 points against the Crimson and the Blue without yielding anything close to an opposing score. No other team in football history has ever so completely annihilated Harvard and Yale.

West Point's offensive exhibition against the Crimson entitles it to rank with Knute Rockne's lost Notre Dame powerhouse, the aggregation that rolled up 60 points against Pennsylvania and 27 against Southern California in 1930.

Army scored only one touchdown; only six points altogether. In its first thirteen games against Harvard, although many of the games in the series, begun in 1895, were close. It has been a far different story in the resumption of relations over the past five years after a long lapse. The Cadets, in the last five games, have three victories, a tie and a one-point defeat, suffered at West Point last year through the all-around prowess of Barry Wood.

Can't Take It

The wildest outgrowth of these Army routs is the squawk of the Yale Daily News that Harvard and Yale were "handicapped by less than half as much pre-season practice as Army annually enjoys and by adhering to much stricter eligibility rules (than Army)."

It is as tough to get into and tougher to stay in West Point than either Harvard or Yale. The Cadet football squad drills throughout the season under severe handicaps, with few if any of the concessions most collegiate gridmen enjoy. By now, moreover, it would seem poor taste as well as unimportant to stress the Army's eligibility rules.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton handicap themselves by restricting the start of practice to September 15. Instead of accomplishing the object of de-emphasis, this policy needlessly subjects many of the players to early season injury, due to lack of proper condition.

But Army hardly can be blamed for this, much less for enjoying the fruits of well-earned victories. The remedies are at Cambridge and New Haven, not at West Point. Major league results cannot be obtained by minor league methods.

Elks' Boxing Show Open to the Public

The benefit boxing show sponsored by Kingston Lodge of Elks at its club on Fair street Monday night are not restricted to Elks alone but are open for the patronage of the public. This announcement was made by the committee in charge of running the bouts with the hope that next Monday's card would draw an even larger attendance than the last. A great attraction.

Featuring Monday's bill of scraps is the match between Otis Paradise, Brooklyn lightweight, and Benny Shields of Wingdale, Dutchess county. The latter is said to be a terrific puncher with little knowledge of the finer points of boxing. Paradise is one of the cleverest men that ever fought in Kingston, having defeated Buddy Emerson and Johnny Marcell, local pugilists, on American Legion cards before cold weather stopped the outdoor bouts. Although he is a master boxer, Matchmaker "Doc" Studer thinks he will have his hands full with Shields.

Starting time of the show, scheduled for 34 rounds in all, is 8:30 o'clock. Ladies are invited.

Primo Carnera Stops Jose Santa in Sixth

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—The loud thump heard 'round Madison Square Garden last night was Jose Santa hitting the canvas in the sixth round of a ten round bout with Primo Carnera.

The 247-pound Portuguese twice before had visited the resin dust, but not quite so emphatically. Consequently when he ponderously hoisted his six feet eight inch frame to something approaching the perpendicular, the referee stepped in, halted one of the most amusing static spectacles in Garden history and awarded Carnera the victory on a technical knockout.

Just about 6,000 persons turned out for the battle of the Behemoths and spent a hilarious evening watching the two giants make passes at one another.

Except for the first round when Santa landed a couple of rights to the body, it was all Carnera. The 270½ pound Italian belabored Jose unmercifully throughout most of the rest of the duel, scoring him for counts of eight in the second and third rounds and then putting him down for nine in the sixth before the referee called a halt after one minute, 10 seconds of the round.

Older Boys Plan Troy Conference

The Older Boys' Conference for the Central and Eastern New York Regions will be held this year in Troy on Saturday and Sunday, December 3 and 4. A number of boys from Kingston and vicinity are planning to attend. The conference is for representatives from Older Boys' groups in churches, Sunday schools and Y. M. C. A. groups. The purpose of this year's conference is to help the delegates answer an important question: "What is the right thing to do and why?"

Last year's conference which was held at Poughkeepsie, was for just the Central Hudson District. The gathering at Troy will be much wider in scope. Kingston has a delegation of 25 boys at Poughkeepsie last year and hopes to have as many at Troy this year.

The program will consist of addresses, open forums and discussion groups. Part of Saturday afternoon will be devoted to a recreation period and after the banquet Saturday evening, a group of engineers from the General Electric Company in Schenectady, will put on a scientific demonstration.

The principal speaker at the conference will be the Rev. Albert G. Butler, D. D., pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Buffalo, and most effective speaker to Older Boys. The Rev. James Lee Eitenwood, New York State Y. M. C. A. Secretary, will also speak and an exceptional group of resource men and leaders has been assembled to assist the speakers in the forum, worship and discussion groups.

Among the resource men are: Professor J. C. McCaskill, professor of Psychology, Springfield Y. M. C. A. College; Harry W. Hepler, professor of Industrial Psychology, Syracuse University; Tracy K. Jones, for eight years in charge of the Y. M. C. A. in Canton, China; and Professor Chester A. Kerr, director of Religious Education, George Corwin, Student Y. M. C. A. secretary of the University of Rochester, will be the leader of the Open Forum.

The Kingston delegation will go in cars or by bus, leaving here early on Saturday morning so as to get there in time for the opening session which begins at 9:30 a. m. Delegates will be entertained over night Saturday and to breakfast Sunday morning free of charge. A number of Kingston churches are planning on sending delegates as are some of the groups at the Y. M. C. A. Any boy between the ages of 15 and 20, who is anxious to go, may communicate with N. H. Fuller, boys' work secretary at the Y. M. C. A., who will be in charge of the Kingston Delegation.

IS YOUR SLEEP UNCERTAIN?

If your sleep is uncertain—if you find it hard to drop off to sleep and easy to wake up—and yet you are tired and cannot rest, you may be sure that the cause is in a disturbance of the nervous system, with perhaps a derangement of the digestive organs.

It is during sleep that the batteries of life are re-charged, and vitality is increased. But if sleep refuses to come, then one's vitality begins to ebb—the vital reserves of the body are drained—and such conditions cannot indefinitely persist.

When your bodily resistance is thus lowered, you then become an easy prey for serious diseases.

For this reason, then, you should at once seek a health method which will overcome your sleeplessness. Chiropractic deals directly with the nervous system—more direct than any other method—and offers you a definite and encouraging hope.

Delay in getting at the basic cause of your trouble makes it more difficult to get well. For this reason, you should today arrange for a Chiropractic examination.

"I had been troubled for several years with insomnia, nervousness, lack of appetite and weakness. During that time, I had the almost constant attention of our family practitioner, but making no headway, I began taking Chiropractic treatment."

"At the present writing, my appetite has returned to normal, and I am increasing in weight and sleeping well. I have shown greater improvement after a short course of Chiropractic Spinal Treatment than I did during the three years of other forms of treatment." Walter V. Stock, Chiropractic Spinal Treatment Bureau, Statement No. 2219-E. Sworn to before A. M. Smith, Notary.
